

Prevention tips for riders

- Know where you are permitted to ride and where you are not. Respect private property and closed areas; that's good public relations.
- Make sure your ohv has a spark arrester installed and operational.
- Always be courteous when you pass hikers on a trail or other vehicles on a dirt road.
- Do not park your ohv's on dry grass. Exhaust pipes are sometimes glowing hot.
- Keep the rpm's and speed low and steady when you are near houses and campgrounds, or anytime you are around non-riders.
- Make sure all camp or warming fires are dead out. Many wildfires start and camps have been lost by not leaving fires dead out. Just because there is no smoke does not mean the fire is out
- Always crush smokes dead out.

Above all, think of yourself as an ambassador for trail riding. Your actions speak for all.
